FROM THE BOARD ROOM

Today see's Welling Utd visit us here at the Bob Lucas.

Hopefully a lot of you managed to listen to the interview I did with Ben last weekend and that it has given you and insight into where we are what we need to be looking at going forward. I've taken on board the feedback that a regular update like this would be useful and will endeavour to do that.

Hopefully you have all seen the Hall of Fame set for the 21st February, these evenings are a great way to honour past players and indeed current Vice Presidents. If you haven't joined us for an evening before I would encourage you to do so as they are entertaining evenings and often other past legends attend as well.

We are also hosting an end of season 6 a-side tournament here on the 4th of May which should be lots of fun for all the family. If you wish to enter a team you can via the office. We are hoping to have an ex-pro team as well as a Weymouth Legends team.

Ben Thomson's charity game will also be here on the 17th May and more announcements about that will be forthcoming over the next few weeks.

Thanks for supporting the lads today it is greatly appreciated.

Paul

MATCHDAY HOSPITALITY

FROM THE DUG OUT

Good afternoon Terras and a huge welcome to Welling United's staff and supporters.

Obviously, being the ex-manager, I have a lot of friends associated with the club and I wish them good luck for the rest of the season, but obviously not today!

I was disappointed with the performance at home last week to Enfield Town but showed we got a point and that's the only positive I can pick from the game.

Tuesday was a good performance but unfortunately we didn't take our chances when on top and that's been the story of the season. Today is a chance to get 3 points and a good performance and try to break this home form voodoo.

I would like to thank the fans that travelled to Hampton and Richmond on Tuesday and to all the fans since I've been here and we will try to give them something to smile about till the end of the season.

I know its been difficult for them and there's no one more hurting than me, I've had a short time here but really enjoyed it and felt welcome by everyone and we will do our utmost to stay competitive.

Thank you

Warren

FROM THE SA

PETE NASH

Good afternoon everyone. I would like to offer a warm Weymouth welcome to the officials, staff and players of Welling United, hope they enjoy their brief stay at The Bob Lucas Stadium and wish them safe travels.

I don't intend to go on about recent results, I fully appreciate you will have heard it all before. In terms of games left, we have to be realistic and accept that a certain lady may well be warming up her vocal cords and getting ready to sing. I would just like to state once again for the record, this was not on anyone's agenda when we set out at the start of the season!

I hope that most of you have had the opportunity to listen to club Chairman Paul Maitland's interview he conducted with Ben Ashelford last Saturday? If not, then I can fully recommend that you give it a listen. There is quite a bit of detailed information on the state of our finances and the challenges we face running the club, not just on the field but off it as well. From my perspective, we are where we are and we cannot change what has already happened. We can spend the next weeks and months poring over why we did this, why we made that decision, but as ever, decisions were made at the time in good faith and with the best intentions, but there is no hiding that things have not worked out how we would have liked. But such is life, it has a habit of knocking you down, and all we can do is set the example to you all, of getting back up, dusting ourselves down and pressing on and doing the absolute best that we can for the football club we all love. We will all continue to work as hard as we can to get things right. We will still need all the help and support that we can get, so I urge you all to stick with us, as we need you all now as much as we ever did.

Your current WFC board of directors are just the present club custodians. Many passed this way before us and there will be those that come after we have moved on. That is the nature of things. We all put in endless amounts of time and energy into keeping the club going, through good times and bad. I myself would never ever stand in the way of progress. If someone can do a better job, or they feel that my presence is holding the club back in some way, I would gladly step aside and give someone else the opportunity. I only want what is best for my club, a club I will always support, no matter what. No one is bigger than the club, and we know this only too well.

Before I sign off, a reminder to book your Hall of Fame tickets. Friday 21st February is the date, ahead of the Aveley home fixture on the 22nd. They represent excellent value for money at just £45pp, which includes a 3 course meal and free commemorative programme. Plus you are helping with the clubs fundraising! The inductees are Simon Browne, Dave Camp, Alan Beer and Simon Etherington. So make a date in your diary and celebrate those past Terras heroes.

Please enjoy the game today and cheer the lads.
As ever, thanks for reading. Best wishes to you all and thank you for your continued support.

Despite only being in the job a few weeks this is already the second time Terras gaffer Warren Feeney will face his former charges and he will hope to improve on the 1-2 loss in east London back in January. On that occasion the hosts scored a goal in each half to take the points, Jordon Thompson bagging a last minute consolation for the Terras.

Today represents match number 32 against our visitors and our overall record is still pretty much of a “coin toss” although at home we have clipped the Wings more often than not with 9 wins from 14 meetings. Before this campaign our most recent match up was in April when a point for Welling in a 0-0 draw was enough for them to complete their own “great escape”. Our earlier meeting last season was back in November when a Ben Thomson goal on the strike of half-time was cancelled out just nine minutes after the restart by Kain Adom in a 1-1 draw.

In 2022/23 we “did the treble” over our visitors. A 3-0 FA Cup victory in October, a 2-1 league win in London a month later and finally another conquest by the same score-line in Dorset!

Before that campaign our most recent encounters against the reds were in our pandemic-curtailed-2019/20-conference-south-based-season. In September of that term we edged a tight encounter, Brett Williams scoring the only goal, but in our return fixture in January we enjoyed a straight-forward 3-1 victory, a 96th minute strike from Jake McCarthy consolidating the points.

Our first meeting against the Wings was back in 1986 in the conference league. At that time we had been an established club in that division but it was a debut campaign for Welling following a fairly meteoric rise up the non-league pyramid. Welling then faced us over three seasons from 1986 until our relegation in 1989.

Our next convergence would be almost a decade later in FA cup qualifying in 1998 when Welling won 3-2. At the start of this century we were league rivals again, this time in the southern league, over six consecutive seasons from 2000/01. More recently we endured a FA Trophy exit at the last 64 stage in 2008 and a couple of pastings in the Conference South in 2009/10, 3-0 at home followed by a 7-1 reverse just 10 days later.

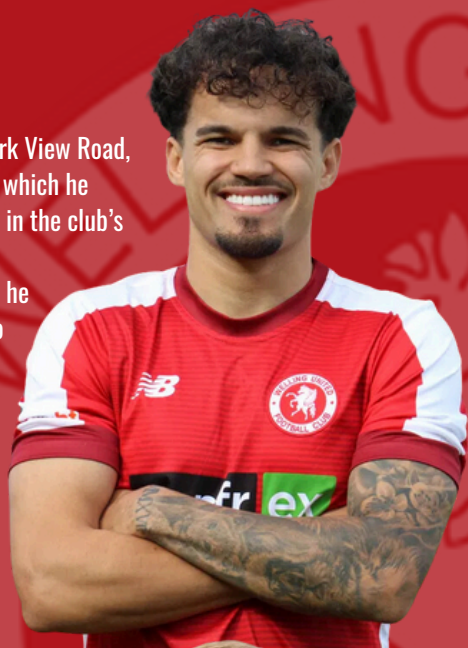

KEEP AN EYE ON

Maxwell STATHAM

24-year-old Statham joins the Wings for a second spell at Park View Road, following an eye-catching stay during the 2021/22 season in which he made 30 National League appearances, playing a pivotal part in the club's survival with a strong end to the campaign.

Beginning his career as a youngster with Tottenham Hotspur, he then joined Watford at the age of 18 before an initial move to Hornchurch in the summer of 2021 then joining Welling in October 2021.

Following the end of the 2021/22 campaign, he made the move to Dartford, becoming a mainstay in their side as they secured second place in National League South in 2022. He spent two seasons at Princes Park before making the switch to Hemel Hempstead Town in July and embarked on a short stint on loan with Chatham Town in August 2024.

Gene KENNEDY

Kennedy initially arrived at Park View Road on loan from Colchester United in February 2024 and went on the play a key part in the Wings' successful fight against relegation under Rod Stringer and is now here to stay following his release by the U's in June.

The 21-year-old midfielder made 12 first-team appearances for the League Two side, including six league outings before embarking on a loan spell with Braintree Town in 2023. After signing for Welling on loan in February, he impressed during his 16 league appearances, scoring once in the 3-2 home victory over Truro City.

THE WINGS

Martell TAYLOR-CROSSDALE

The 24-year-old came through the academy ranks at Chelsea, winning the FA Youth Cup, before making the move to Fulham in 2019.

A two-year stay at Craven Cottage saw him embark on a loan move to Colchester United before joining Weymouth for the 2021/22 campaign.

Spells with Gloucester City, Hendon and Met Police followed before Taylor-Crossdale joined Welsh Premier League side Haverfordwest County last term, netting 12 goals in 33 appearances, including four outings in Europe as part of his side's UEFA European Conference League qualifying campaign.

A former England youth international, he has represented his country at U16, U17, U18 and U20 level, scoring eight times in nine appearances across the various age groups.

THE TOUCHLINE

Rod Stringer arrived at Park View Road with a wealth of experience under his belt and a proven track record of success in non-League football.

He led Aveley to the Isthmian Division One North title in 2009, before moving on to Braintree Town where he achieved a second promotion and being crowned National League South champions in 2011.

Stringer then moved on to Bishop's Cleeve for 5 years.

In 2016, he made the move to Chelmsford City where he led the Clarets to three National League South play-off campaigns prior to his departure in 2020.

Following the pandemic, Stringer was named Brentwood Town boss in October 2021, leading them to the Isthmian Division One North play-off final before departing in February 2023.

He then arrived in DA16 in January 2024 with the task of steering Weymouth to survival. Rooted in the relegation zone when he took the hot seat, Stringer led the Wings to a run of just two defeats in the 18 remaining National League South games, eventually securing safety with relative ease.

How have you found your time with the team this season (results aside), personally what's the group like?

From the minute I came in I felt very welcomed from the lads and from there really enjoyed it here. It's a great group and I look forward to coming in every match day and training session.

Diving way back, where did football start for you?

Football started very early on in my life, my brother used to stick me in goal in the garden and just take shots at me so that's where playing football and being in goal came from.

Who would you say is your biggest football inspiration, and what about them appealed to you about them?

I think my biggest inspiration has to be my family, growing up watching my dad play, then watching my brother play and wanting to follow their foot steps.

People always say goalkeepers are a different breed, why is that, do you agree?

I don't know the exact reason that's for sure! A lot of goalkeepers have a screw loose, personally I think I'm not too bad but I'll let others judge that. But that being said, always wanting to dive and chuck your head in front of the ball, takes a different type of person for sure!

I saw online the other day how goalkeepers have to almost consider their position as a separate game, is it harder than it looks?

Haha, it's definitely harder than it looks but I would say that! There is a lot that goes into goalkeeping not just kicking and saving, so yes very different to outfield in-terms of training and in games however ultimately we are all after the same result!

BUSE

What's your earliest football memory, playing or watching a game? Tell us a bit more.

I think my earliest memory of football especially when playing was probably when I was about 9/10. The football tournaments were always good fun! Me and my mates, we were all in academies at the time, would enter the tournaments. It's a core memory for sure

If you were to do any other job what would it be?

I think I would be a nutritionist and an online coach. They are the two thing I'm really interested in as well as qualified in so I would head down that route I reckon.

How do you unwind after a game or training?

I wouldn't say I have a specific way to unwind after training and games. I like to relax after by watching a bit of tv, big fan of some of the games shows on the Saturday, limitless wins and 1% club or just a movie/series

What have you learnt about Weymouth since being here as a club and fanbase?

While being here, especially through the tough period we are all going through, the togetherness within the club is massive. The fans have supported us each game, win, lose or draw and show the loyalty in the club.

Do you have a final message for the fans?

I just want to personally thank all the fans for their support this season, we all know it's been a really tough season results wise but we won't stop fighting for every point and need you every step of the way and hopefully together we can do something very special.

GREAT PLACES TO PLAY

Woods Words

It was a fairly uneventful match here last Saturday against fellow relegation candidates Enfield Town. A point each didn't do anyone any good, but realistically even if either team had won that match a lot was still required to escape the drop. Tuesday evening sounded as though we played well, but again no goals for cost us.

Yes mathematically we could stay up, by realistically?

Our points tally over the last dozen games and indeed over the whole season is way off what we need. We just have not scored goals and that has been fatal.

You can't put any blame on the current manager, the damage was done right from the start of the season. You can't start any season with seven straight defeats and not expect to be struggling.

What's done is done any we have to get in with it and plan for next season back in the Southern League, a division I had hoped we had seen the last of, but, as has been the case really ever since we moved here to the Bob Lucas Stadium, a league we only briefly manage to escape from.

It really is a big continuous circle: struggle, a short period of some success, then back to struggle and repeat.

You don't have any right to anything in football, we would be the first to admit that, but four seasons of almost continuous relegation battles does wear even the most fanatical supporter down.

Someone wrote on the fans forum recently that the club needs a "reset" I think that is a good way to describe it. I am not saying people have to go, but as Paul Maitland said in his interview, we have to look at how things are done and if they can maybe be done differently. There are so many things we as fans don't appreciate with regards to running a football club and it won't be a quick and easy fix I am sure.

More on all that at a later date, today we welcome Welling United, who up until fairly recently were flirting with relegation themselves, but an improvement in form and being able to sign a clutch of new players looks to have done enough to avoid the drop.

At the time of writing, the entire bottom four are nine points from safety, I can't remember another season when the whole bottom four where as adrift as that with only just over half a season gone!

It is just as tight at the top of the league, but I don't think it is any coincidence that the top and play off places are entirely taken by the financially well backed clubs.

Non league football? "It's not all about money", some people say...

'till next time

Change Is Good

Ben Ashleford

I want to talk about literally anything other than football. In fact, specifically I want to discuss anything other than Weymouth Football Club.

Sadly, like most of you reading this, I simply can't stop thinking about the club.

So, I'm going to pile in on the artificial pitch conversation. I say 'pile in' I've actually been talking about it quite a lot recently, including here in my programme notes.

I spoke with chairman Paul Maitland in an interview that many of you will have heard. An interview I was quite pleased with. It was no Frost/Nixon and I'm fairly certain no television production company will pay us for the live exclusive - especially NLTV or DAZN who don't even seem pay the clubs for broadcasting their games - but I was pleased with the outcome and the feedback.

My theory is that an artificial surface is the best answer to our current woes. I've always been against them. I'm a football traditionalist, grass will always be my first choice. But switching to a 4G pitch is something that I can really see benefitting us.

Having said that. In my vision of the future, I would install the new surface without ever intending to hire it out. Having read most of the discussions surrounding this idea since recording and releasing the interview, I've noticed most people have listed hiring it out as one of the benefits to installing one.

For me, I want to see the mens senior team train on it twice a week (more often if time and budget allows) I'd like to see the under 23 and under 18 sides train on it along side the first team, potentially creating a legitimate pathway to the first team, which is something we desperately want, but is not practical at all when we train away from Weymouth. I want the youth sides to play their games there, I want to women's team to train and play there. Essentially I want to sacrifice my love of a real playing surface to have Weymouth fc in one place, under one banner and legitimately moving forward together.

If we can find the money, and if we can get the relevant permissions. The time is now.
